AFTER EACH "PROGRESS edition" there is always a let-down at our joint, both physically and mentally, which, of course, is to be expected because the build-up to the year's optimo always is quite a strain on all of us.

But somehow we all manage to survive.

The strain, of course, is worth it when the final results come up to our fondest expectations which, from what we have gathered from so many of you, the 1971 progress edition did.

We appreciate the many compliments The Press has received, for it helps make it all worthwhile.

So we will do it again next year.

Although each year, after the job is completed, we can't help but wonder what we are going to do for an encore. But that's 51 weeks away.

Right now we have to think about this issue.

OBVIOUSLY BECAUSE the annual progress edition has been in the limelight for the last few weeks, as far as the staff has been concerned, many of the problems that involved its production still remain sort of fixed in our minds.

But we won't bore you with 'em.

If you have nothing better to do sometime, we will fill you in.

Actually it has become a gala (?) function, a sort of publication mardi gras, so to speak, leading up to the grand finale when the paper is ready to be run off the press.

That's when this let-down that we were telling you about takes place.

Except we can't allow too much time for recovery.

There is always another deadline to meet.

ONE MORE STATISTIC about the progress edition which might be of some interest to you, if you don't mind listening for another minute or so, concerns the total weight of the 1971 issue.

Come to think about it, almost everyone seems to be concerned about a weight problem of one type or another.

Anyway to Will Clever, who wears a number of different hats in the back shop, under Brent Ulrich's direction, goes the credit for recording for posterity, or anyone else who is interested, the total weight of the 1971 progress edition.

While The Press truck was loaded with the entire pressrun just prior to the distribution to the carriers, Will had the foresight to put the whole shebang on the scales.

The papers weighed 2600 pounds!

That means more than 1¼ tons of newsprint was used with about 100-pounds of ink for that one issue.

One might call it quite a weighty affair.

AT A RECENT CITY Council meeting, Norm Paul, president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, presented the CofC's semi-annual report to the city fathers. This always precedes the allocation of city funds to the Chamber.

Norm covered the activities of the CofC for the past six months and also projected what was planned for the immediate future, touching on the drive for the city hall clock tower, a community-wide project, which is being spearheaded by the CofC.

Mayor Dean Chamberlin, on behalf of the City Council, complimented Norm and the CofC for the achievements and also commended Bob Bullard, immediate past president, who was present, for being instrumental in estab-

INCUMBENTS FACE OPPOSITION

Trustee battles loom in districts

There will be competition for trustee posts in all the school districts in this area, from the elementary to the community college level.

That was assured last Thursday at 5 p.m., the deadline for filing for the April 20 election.

But on the Campbell Union High School District ballot a familiar name will be missing.

Emerson (Doc) Arends, of 716 Cambrian Dr., Campbell, owner of the Campbell Lumber Co., who has served as a high school trustee for 19 years (since 1952) and the last 11 years as president of the board, did not file for reelection. He has served five terms as high school trustee.

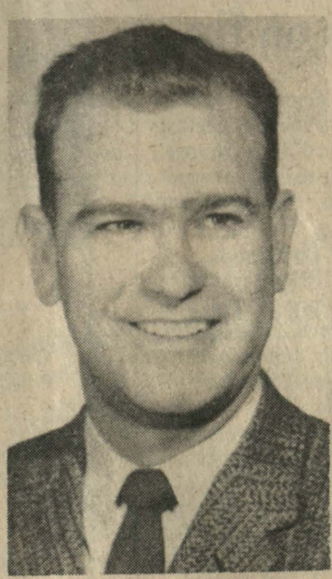
There are six candidates including William L. Murphy, incumbent, long-time board member, in the race for the two high school trustee jobs that are open.

Others filing included M. Mac Martinez, 1195 Holmes Ave., Campbell, educator, Ray A. Silva, 1691 Merrill Dr., San Jose, life insurance underwriter; E. (Charlie) Cole, 1166 El Solyo Ave., Campbell, consulting graphologist; Jack A. Schroeder, 5612 Hammond Dr., San Jose, research technician; Frederick A. Weed, 4225 Bloomfield Dr., San Jose, college professor.

There are also two openings on the Campbell Union (elementary) School District board which has been beset by factional bickering for many months, reaching a peak in October with the demotion of Neal Royer, superintendent, by a 3-2 vote of the board and the presentation of a report by the Citizens Advisory Finance Committee.

Dr. Richard MacQuiddy, a psychologist, of 38 Decorah Ln., Campbell, serving as the current board president, and who instigated the Royer demotion, has filed for reelection.

Also filing for reelection is Jim Gilliland, an electronic engineer at IBM, who resides at 900 N. Central, Campbell.



E. M. (DOC) ARENDS
--19 years service

Gilliland opposed Royer's demotion and has been in the opposite camp from MacQuiddy in most board matters.

Dr. Robert L. King, of 15232 Stratford Ct., Monte Sereno, a veterinarian, who served on the Citizens' Finance Advisory Committee and who has been critical of MacQuiddy's position on district matters, is a candidate.

The other candidates are Bob Lemmerman, of 4725 Del Loma Ct., Campbell, a public relations director, and Dr. Ralph Anderson, of 13687 Quito Rd., Saratoga, a corporation president-manager (Future Systems, Inc., Los Gatos).

Robert W. Brydon, incumbent; William J. (Bill) Homan, incumbent, and Robert A. Sorensen, incumbent, representing the Campbell Union High School District (Area 3) on the West Valley College governing board, are seeking reelection.

Ernest J. Paramo, educator and Sonia Byars, housewife-student, have also filed for trustee in Area 3.

Donald E. Lindstrom, incumbent, representing Santa Clara on the board, has no opposition.

In the Cambrian School District, five candidates are also seeking the two board positions that are open.

Incumbents Edward J. Carman, of 2635 Union Ave., San Jose, and William C. Sartorett, of 14301 S. Bascom, Los Gatos, are seeking reelection.

Also filing are Robert D. Coleman, 1979 Borchers Dr., San Jose, a banker; C. B. (Sonny) Towner, 3291 New Jersey, San Jose, a salesman and Quantin (Bud) Taylor, 2186 W. Moreland Dr., San Jose, a principal-public schools.

In the Moreland District where two trustees are also to be elected, there are four candidates, two of them incumbents.

Mrs. Doris von Herrmann, of 17741 McKinnon Dr., Saratoga and John W. Anderson, of 1196 Forest Creek Dr., San Jose, are the incumbents.

In the race also are Tashimi (Bill) Kumagai, of 4648 Mossbrook Cir., San Jose, a teacher and David S. Williams, 1113 Dell Camber Dr., San Jose, insurance manager.

Council to hear young orator

Before the city councilmen delve into mundane matters pertaining to city business at the City Council meeting next Monday, March 8, at 8 p.m., they will hear from David Rosenthal, a gifted speaker from Campbell High.

Young Rosenthal is the winner of a speech contest sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and will be awarded his prize by Mayor Dean Chamberlin.

Also on the agenda is the proposed Dell-Division street project discussion and a report on the proposed Highway 17 - Campbell Ave. off/on ramp situation.

Gilliland - King

Mrs. Jeanette Watson, Campbell civic leader, and Hank Mestice, long-time youth leader in the community, will serve as co-chairmen of the citizens' committee to elect Jim Gilliland, incumbent, and Dr. Robert L. King, as trustees for the Campbell Union (elementary) School District in the April 20 election.

Gordon Abbott, who is serving as coordinator of the Gilliland-King committee, said that those wishing to help in the campaign can call 378-0487; 354-8608 or 241-4513.

WITHDRAWS---Ken Burmeister, former chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Finance Committee, 2671 La Salle, San Jose, filed for trustee of the Campbell Union (elementary) District but withdrew his name before the deadline last Thursday.

In a letter-to-the-editor in this issue, Burmeister explains the reasons for his withdrawal. Five candidates remain in the trustee race for the two seats on the board that are open. They include Dr. Richard MacQuiddy and Jim Gilliland, incumbents, Dr. Robert L. King, Bob Lemmerman, and Dr. Ralph Anderson.

Candidates' night to take place

Two school trustee candidates' nights have already been scheduled in the Campbell Union (elementary) School District and indications are that more will be booked before the election on April 20.

Forest Hill PTA will sponsor a public forum on Tuesday, March 16, in the school cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. All five of the candidates have been invited and the public will be asked to submit written questions to them. The League of Women Voters will moderate the forum.

Mrs. Gail Holt and Mrs. Anne Moore and co-chairmen of the affair.

The Campbell Elementary Teachers Association has scheduled a similar event for Castlemont School, Tuesday, April 13, at 7:30 p.m.

The CETA has also sent a questionaire to candidates to answer written questions pertaining to the district. The candidates have also been requested to participate in informal discussions and to attend the candidate panel/forum on April 13. Betty Rae Daughterty is chairman.

POLICE CHIEF REMAINS CRITICAL

Community starts fund for Morgan

Saddened by the serious condition of Police Chief John D. Morgan, who remains in a grave critical condition in the hospital after suffering a stroke 19 days ago, residents of the community this week, in a very material way, showed their affection for the beloved police chief.

A special fund has been established in the two branches of the Bank of America in town to help the family defray the mounting medical expenses that are not covered by insurance.

Contributions can be made to the fund by personally contacting any teller at either branch (in the PruneYard or 125 E. Campbell). Contributions will also be accepted at the police department or by any police officer or at the city hall, 75 N. Central.

Since Chief Morgan suffered the stroke, hundreds of friends of the stricken chief have called the police department to offer assistance to the family, according to Capt. Don Burr, acting police chief.

It was because of this unprecedented response by the public that the fund was set up, Capt. Burr reports, for many of the callers had offered monetary assistance.

He added that even before the fund was officially established a $100 check had been received by the bank.

Chief Morgan suffered a cerebral hemorrhage on Feb. 13 and has remained in intensive care in the Los Gatos Community Hospital since that time. Although conscious, he has remained paralyzed and is being fed intravenously and breathes through a tracheal incision.

JOHN D. MORGAN
--Remains Critical

Capt. Burr said that Morgan's hospitalization insurance will not cover all the medical costs which places a financial burden on the family and the special fund will be used for that purpose.

The fund is known as the "John D. Morgan Fund" and the checks should be made out in that manner. More than $500 was received in the first few days, it has been reported.

The fund will be administered by City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan, Capt. Burr and Sgt. John B. Butler.

IN FIRST TWO MONTHS OF '71

Building permits here top $4 million

Building permits issued by the City of Campbell so far this year exceeded the same period last year by almost $3.8 million!

During February, permits totalling $3,524,601 were issued by the city, according to Wally Byron, building official. In February 1970, the permits came to $194,021.

January this year exceeded the same month last year by more than $400,000.

So, after only two months of the year, there have been more than $4 million ($4,003,835) in building permits issued within the city limits of Campbell, which is approximately two-thirds of the total ($6 million-plus) last year.

Apartment complexes dominated the building picture for February. One of the permits was for a 180-unit project on Alamarida (across from Breuners) that came to $1,790,837. It was issued to Variant Investments.

A permit was also issued to Royal Development Co. (Harold Teren) during the month for 72-units at a valuation of $722,785.

There was also a virtual "boom" in the commercial building area with a total of $963,952 in that category.

One of these permits was for an Alpha Beta Market at San Tomas Road and Campbell for $286,875 and with satellite stores in the same center coming to $603,000.

A permit for the new Barclays Bank to be located on Hamilton just off Winchester was issued for $57,000.

There were no permits for industrial buildings, duplexes or single-family residences issued during the month. There have been no single-family permits taken out in almost two years.

During February permits for four swimming pools totalled $14,000. Signs came to $7,160 and residential additions $6,610. Commercial additions totalled $18,357 and all other permits were $900.

ON PLANNING COMMISSION

Vote split causes motion marathon

That "motion", despite what Webster may say, does not necessarily mean "action", was demonstrated in a frustrating manner at the Planning Commission meeting Monday night, for it took seven "moves" before approval was obtained for a third motion picture screen for the Winchester Drive-in Theater.

Only six of the seven commissioners were present at Monday's meeting and six of the motions resulted in a split (3-3) right down the middle, as long-time opponents of the theater staged their final obstructionist maneuvers.

The deadlock was finally broken by Chairman Merrill Grim, who previously had aligned himself with Commissioners Frank Klein and Jack Healey.

Grim handed the gavel to Vice-Chairman Dale Scott and then moved for approval of the site-plan for the third screen, as recommended by the architectural review committee. Grim's motion specified that ordinances relating to the theater should be enforced by the City Council.

The vote on that motion went 4-2 with Scott, Norm Paul, Don Hebard and Grim favoring it and Healey and Klein opposed.

That motion came 90 minutes after the architectural committee had reported. Ordinarily the committee's recommendation gains routine approval from the rest of the Commission.

But that was not the case on Monday night!

Before the Planning Commission was the application by Syufy Enterprises for approval of the site-plans for the third screen. The City Council had previously granted the necessary use permit for the screen.

At a previous meeting the Commission had referred the matter, after prolonged discussion, back to its architectural review committee for a specific recommendation, especially with respect to alleviating excessive noise.

The committee (Commissioners Ed Pack and Paul), after considerable research, presented its report on Monday.

One of the features was a three-foot mound with a fence on top on a landscaped buffer strip suggested by Pack, who is rated as an expert in the sound field.

Pack, however, was unable to be present Monday night.

The absence of Pack, plus the staging of a mini-version of a filibuster by Commissioner Klein turned the meeting into a bizarre affair that some of the observers, including three councilmen, thought might go on forever.

The meeting Monday night marked the first appearance of Bob Dempster, Campbell's new city attorney.

Although Dempster ruled that the Planning Commission was limited in its action to the site-plan before it, Klein took exception to the attorney's ruling. He spelled out his objections step-by-step, in a lengthy procedure and "cross-examined" the city's new legal counsel on a point-by-point basis.

Hebard, after the first preliminary skirmishes on the part of Klein and Healey, made the first motion for approval of the site committee's report. The vote was 3-3.

Discussion began again with Klein again leading the way.

A motion by Scott received no second.

Some 40 minutes later, Paul repeated the motion made previously by Hebard. The vote again was 3-3 with Grim commenting that it was the same motion.

Paul then asked the opposition to make a motion, commenting that since they

Bonacina's valedictory

EDITOR'S NOTE:

Joseph A. Bonacina, who was city attorney for Campbell from 1952 until this Monday (March 1), was honored at a recognition dinner on Friday, Feb. 19. He has been succeeded as city attorney by Robert Dempster, former Cupertino mayor.

Bonacina, in response to the many tributes that were paid him at the dinner eloquently described the growing pains that the city had undergone during the 19 years he served as city attorney and then touched on some of the problems that municipalities now face and will face in the future.

We are pleased that we have been able to obtain a copy of Bonacina's talk. We are publishing it this week as an "editorial" because we feel it contains information of value to all of us.—G.V.

by Joseph A. Bonacina
City Attorney (1952-1971)
(Speech given Feb. 19, 1971 at recognition dinner)

You have showered me with accolades, you have warmed me with your encomiums, and I have received your plaudits.

What response may one make to the generous panegyrics we have heard? There is only one all encompassing and meaningful expression, simple though it may be; that is to say thank you.

In 1952, the Community of Campbell faced a challenge: a challenge to its autonomy and its right to control its own destinies. It met that challenge by the process of municipal incorporation. Beginning with its first council and mayor, and continuing down through succeeding councils and mayors, through close to nineteen years, a City was built, planned and developed for future growth.

The respective councils surrounded themselves with efficient and capable administrators, department heads and personnels: they truly developed a Model City. Their public safety agencies, police and fire, have been recognized as most outstanding and exemplary and have won for the City many honors and awards. So, also, may it be said for all other departments and agencies of this municipal government.

The City of Campbell has indeed been fortunate to be blessed with outstanding elected officials from the beginning to the present date. No one group of councilmen, no individual mayor, no individual elected official, no single administrative head or department head can be singled out for special award, because the fruits of your labor, the results of your indefatigable zeal, was a team effort of unparalleled significance.

Yet as we look into the horizon of the future, this City will be called upon to face still another challenge. Already the clouds of merger, consolidation and unification are gathering.

We must recognize that the great problems of ecology, pollution, mass transportation, sewerage and housing can no longer be solved or serviced on a purely local basis; nor, are series of joint powers agreements between municipalities and higher levels of government going to prove efficacious to meet the pressures of the day.

Already strained financial budgets at all levels of government are driving us to a consideration of elimination of duplicating services. Scarcely a day passes without an announcement, in one form or another, pointing to a possible federalization of state and local agencies.

This statement is supported by the most recent announcement of the possible sharing of federal and state funds with local government. With such sharing, there will be the concomitant obligations, rules and regulations for the use and distribution of such shared funds.

Locally, and more recently, a 1970 County Grand Jury and its govermental relation's committee, alluded to the necessity of mergers and consolidations. In our neighboring County of San Mateo, according to a newspaper report appearing in the San Jose Mercury News on Sunday, January 31, 1971, alluded to a consideration of a borough-type of government as a solution to the myriad of agencies, districts and cities.

In that connection, and we quote from the report, "One major impetus for consolidation seems to be the recent emphasis on federal revenue sharing, which even Republican orthodoxy has embraced under the Nixon Administration."

Further indication of consolidating movements are emphasized in a recent article by G. Ross Stephens, Professor of Political Science at the University of Missouri, appearing in "The Urban Lawyer", published by the American Bar Association, under the title "The Metropolitan Impact of Fiscal and Governmental Reforms: A Simple Model of the Metropolis."

How is the City of Campbell going to meet the challenge and yet preserve for itself and its people the rudiments of autonomy and the maintenance of a peaceful co-existence with its neighboring cities?

This City should take the leadership in bringing about a study into all the facets, into all of the means for preservation of autonomous existence of a government where its people will be adequately represented and its interests fully protected.

May I suggest to you, as I am about to depart from the official chambers of City Hall, that you, ladies and gentlemen, spearhead a movement for the creation of a County-wide Fact Finding Commission of interested, knowledgeable and experienced people, a Commission totally divorced and independent of any governmental agency, except possibly for the authority of its creation, to study the problems and report its findings.

Since we face the problems of consolidation, merger and unification, before a position is taken, there should be a gathering of all facts for consideration. This, ladies and gentlemen, is your challenge in the next decade. These are the challenges with which your new City Attorney will have to grapple—may he be equal to the task.

To City of Campbell: I came to you in your infancy; I leave you in your adulthood. May you continue to grow and to prosper, and with great fortitude and enlightenment, be ready to face the problems of the future.

This is my valedictory.

lishing an excellent rapport with the city administration during his term in office.

Dean also mentioned that he was especially appreciative of the CofC's efforts involving other community organizations in the clock tower project.

He pointed out that the clock tower will be visible evidence for the citizens of the community to point to with pride as their own personal contribution, above and beyond their tax dollars.

"That's what makes the community TICK", chimed in Norm very timely.

Even those who groaned the loudest over that pun, had to admit, however, it was good timing.

THERE IS AN INTERESTING intra-city by-play going on with respect to what names should appear on the bronze plaque that will be attached to the city hall when that edifice is dedicated, probably in the fall.

The plaque will be provided by the Frazier Construction Co., as part of the contract, but the firm needs to know what names should be included on it and how they should be listed.

Generally the mayor, city council, architect and general contractor along with the dedication date appear on such plaques.

And, of course, in some instances the list is expanded to include some members of city staff, past councilmen and mayors.

Thus the matter can get somewhat involved.

TO BEGIN WITH JUST which mayor should be listed?

Campbell operates on a yearly rotating method in the selection of the mayor. The mayor is a councilman who is merely the chairman or presiding officer of the council for a year. The choice is made each April.

Thus, although Dean Chamberlin has been in office during the major part of the construction program of the city hall, unless something unforeseen happens, he will be succeeded by Ralph Doetsch, now vice-mayor, in April this year.

Ralph then probably will be wielding the gavel at the dedication ceremonies next fall.

The "plan" that at the present time seems to have gained the most favor with the councilmen is that the mayor at the time of the dedication should be listed as such on the plaque.

That will be Ralph, as we said, if the present rotation policy is followed.

-0-

WHAT OTHER NAMES should appear?

Obviously, the plaque is not going to cover an entire wall so there is the space factor to consider and there has to be some limitation on the names that are listed.

City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan submitted at a recent Council meeting that City Treasurer Velma Olds had suggested that the names of the only two elected officials (other than the councilmen), the city treasurer and city clerk, should be on the plaque.

The councilmen were in agreement that the name of the City Manager Bob Stephens should be on it because Bob would be representing the city staff, although Bob indicated that was not necessary.

And, of course, a case can be made for listing the mayor who was presiding when construction began. That would be Homer Hyde who no longer is on the Council.

Or how about the guy who was in the mayor's chair when the bonds were passed in 1967 (Ed Rogers) or when the plans were discussed in 1968-69, (Bill Smeed) or when the idea was germinated for a bond issue when Charlie Rose (1964-66) and Doetsch (1966-67) were mayor.

Then how about the people who played leading roles in the civic improvement bond drive in 1967, Don Hebard and Mrs. Jeanette Watson?

If the bonds had not been passed, there would be no city hall to dedicate or a plaque to put on it.

Come to think of it, how about listing the names of all who voted for the bond issue in 1967.

Or the taxpayers carrying the biggest load?

Or, for that matter, how about putting all 22,000 names of the citizens of the town on it?

The last time we heard, it still was THEIR building.

seemed to be "against" everything, just what were they for?

Klein then moved that the application be denied. Healey seconded it.

But the results were the same 3-3.

Scott then moved for continuance. This time he got a second. But the vote again resulted in a 3-3 deadlock. (Scott and Grim merely changed places.)

City Attorney Dempster pointed out that the Commission had to take some action and suggested a continuance until a full commission was present.

Chairman Grim, however, indicated that he still felt the matter could be resolved. That's when he made his move.

And the curtain dropped on the third screen.

Hopefully.

In other actions Monday night, the Commission approved an office/warehouse building at 1386 White Oaks for Dennis Burrows; a warehouse for Mark Levy at 390 McGlincey Lane and two four-unit apartments for Vincent Margo on West Valley Drive.

The Commission continued until March 15, the application of Robert J. Zipse for an industrial complex at 75 Cristich Lane and granted Lowell Grattan, of Sunrise Investment Co., an extension of time for his planned development at Hamilton and Llewellyn.

Approved also was the parcel map for the Capitola Berry Farms on W. Hamilton.

Assessor letter to you could mean $750 exemption

If you receive a letter from the County Assessor's Office soon with a pink form inside, fill it out and return it as soon as possible. The form is an application for a $750 exemption on taxable value of your home.

It should reduce your next year's tax bill by about $70, if you have never applied for the exemption before, according to County Assessor Dwight Mathiesen. If you claimed the exemption last year and fail to apply again this year, the tax bill on your home probably will go up at least that amount.

Under state law anyone is eligible for the exemption if they own and live in their home, duplex or condominium apartment on March 1. However, the state law does not grant the exemption to residents of cooperative apartments, Mathiesen explained.

But if two families jointly own a duplex, such as a father and son, a mother-in-law and son-in-law, or any other combined ownership, both parties can claim the exemption. The Assessor said the law recently was changed to make this possible.

He also advised all veterans who claim the $1,000 veterans exemption to file a claim for both that and the homeowners exemption. There is a limit on the value of a home that can receive the veterans exemption and due to continually rising real estate values some veterans lose their exemption every year. If a veteran loses his exemption, he can receive the homeowner exemption if he filed both applications, Mathiesen said.

Both exemption forms are now in the mail. All veterans will receive both forms. They should be returned to the County Assessor, Exemption Division, 70 W. Hedding St., San Jose, 95110.

If you do not receive the application form by March 5, you should visit the Assessor's Office or call 299-3941.

Master Chef Lee Man Hing

How does a man become a master chef? In China, a land bound by tradition which changes little through the centuries, reputations and status are hard to come by. Only with the passage of time, when both man and deeds have also become history and tradition, is full acceptance granted.

Lee Man Hing is a master chef, one of only four such persons in all China, because the profession of chefs, the owners of restaurants, and the dining public have accorded him the status. In the last two centuries, Shanghai was a city of wealthy merchants. The demand of this plutocracy of China brought into being a new school of cooking over a period of 150 years, and earned, for the Cantonese chefs in Shanghai, a place of eminence in the culinary world.

Lee Man Hing presided over the largest Cantonese restaurant in Shanghai, Sun Ya, which seated 6,000 guests. He also presided over six other restaurants of the highest reputation at the same time, having under his supervision over four hundred cooks. All this, however, is history without flavor. The final, undeniable proof of the pudding is the eating, and for this supreme test, Lee Man Hing awaits your pleasure to demonstrate his mastery of the culinary arts at the BLUE SKY RESTAURANT in Campbell

Letters to the Editor

A WITCH HUNT?

Dear Editor:

Because my efforts to determine the identity of "Mrs. T. Y. Anderson" have been unsuccessful, I am using this means to respond to her letter of Feb. 17, 1971.

Her labeling of Mrs. Dorothy Mitchell as a "political assassin" has a familiar ring to those of us who followed the McCarthy hearings in 1954.

I personally resent the labeling of members of the Citizens' Policy Review Committee as political allies in a nest in "Mrs. T. Y. Anderson's" rather pathetic attempt to conduct a witch hunt.

The members of this committee are concerned people willing to give of their time and efforts in a constructive way that will be of benefit to incidentally, are representative of ALL views in the district.)

The comments by "Mrs. T.Y. Anderson" regarding the policy committee, reflect an abysmal ignorance on her part of the function and purpose of the committee and obviously have no basis for fact.

The personal attacks on me are not worthy of comment, except that at my age, I do very little leaping.

Unfortunately, letters of the type written by "Mrs. T. Y. Anderson" and others are nothing more than brush fires which draw attention because the writers hope no one will notice the whole forest is burning.

LEFT THEIR MARKS

Dear George,

I don't know about you, but all the recent events in the Campbell Elementary School District have certainly left their marks on me. Must your newspaper boy deliver my paper right before dinner? My husband insists on reading the "Letters to the Editor" column while I'm cooking.

My ulcer is bleeding and so is the chicken's.

I hope the little red school house doesn't catch fire right now. It would burn to the ground while we argued over who should turn on the water.

A friend of mine discovered the fastest way to "make a million" yet devised. Put a fine box on the mantle at your next party, and charge a quarter to anyone who utters CUSD, Recall, Anti-Recall, the list can go on and on.

While we are on the subject, rumor has it that not only Snoopy, but Lucy and Charlie Brown are running for the School Board. Obviously Lucy and Charlie Brown don't stand a chance. They are too humanistic to be trusted.

Personally, Snoopy gets my vote. At least he's comfortable in the dog house. And we could always threaten to recall his doggie yum yums if he doesn't tow the mark.

I leave you with this sobering thought, uttered by Joseph Joubert, (whoever he is), some time between 1754 and 1824, "The aim of argument or of discussion should not be victory, but progress".

Yours for bigger dog houses,

Edith R. Bonnet

P.S.: If you don't choose to print this, I may never write again.

ABOUT SPOUSES

Dear Editor:

"Spouses of teachers, in particular, should make it clear in public utterances they speak only for themselves...." So stated Dr. Robert L. King last week.

This is a philosophy to which I cannot subscribe. When a citizen of this land writes a letter the average person assumes that he or she is writing as an individual and NOT as a representative of someone else UNLESS SPECIFICALLY NOTED.

If this isn't true, I must take exception with Dr. King. Both of us went to Washington State University, yet he did not make it clear that he was not speaking for me. And was he speaking for all veterinarians—he didn't make this clear either.

Come now, Dr. King, doesn't your wife (if you have one) have the right to speak without specifying that she isn't speaking for you?

George R. Lewis
600 Budd Ave.

WHY WITHDRAWAL

Dear George:

This letter is to clarify the situation.

Subsequent to my filing for trustee of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District on Monday, Feb. 22, another candidate who I considered had superior qualifications, filed.

For that reason, prior to the deadline on Feb. 25, I withdrew. I feel that the public should be offered the best qualified candidates possible and that goal has now been achieved.

It is now up to the public to scrutinize their candidates' records, qualifications and platforms and then vote on April 20.

It was while serving as chairman of the Citizens' Advisory Finance Committee that the district was stunned by a series of mammoth fiscal problems confronting the board. The public became also disturbed by the indifferent and belligerent attitude of some of the board members toward the 20 written and one unwritten recommendations of the committee.

The public thus became rightfully concerned over the following points:

1. There were gigantic budgetary errors. Large amounts were not budgeted for and reserves had been depleted.

2. The board had participated in inadequate bidding procedures.

3. The business manager was causing turmoil and was involved in law suits.

4. By a 3-2 vote, the board had demoted the superintendent without any job appraisal, formal hearing or charges which has resulted in the superintendent filing suit against the district.

5. A recall action was instigated against the two board members eligible for such action.

It is my observation that the public is appalled by the Board's failure to act in a harmonious manner, or, for that matter, to even recognize the gathering storm clouds.

Because the voters were being asked to align themselves with the incumbent candidates and their running mates, representing the present majority and minority board factions, and in recognition of the Board's incompetency in the past, I felt a third choice was necessary in the election.

Therefore, I filed because I felt the objectivity in the situation was being lost.

However, I withdrew from the race upon the filing of another person whose qualifications I felt were superior to mine.

Sincerely,
Ken Burmeister

Camden Hi Notes

by Donna St. Cyr

Congratulations to Laura Watts on winning second place in the Antidefamation League Essay Contest, and on winning a $50 bond.

Sandy James, February's Senior of the Month, represents Camden at Penney's Fashion Board.

Sandy feels more classes, such as, sociology and psychology should be offered to the students.

"Students should have more control over our curriculum", states Sandy.

"Walking around in the city, eating, dancing and listening to Mr. Osorio tell stories in public speaking," Sandy replied when asked what she likes to do. She dislikes phony and close-minded people.

When asked her ambition in life, she answered "To be an African princess".

Future plans are to go to college and major in history.

"They ought to change the P.E. department to an elective basis," states Lance Holweger, Senior of the Month.

A member of Honor Society, Lance enjoys being on Camden's baseball team.

Lance enjoys spending time on the Yuba River. He also enjoys listening to a good, balanced stereo tape. Lance dislikes close-minded parents.

Lance plays in the local group, Dutch East India Co.

Future plans for Lance include majoring in P.E. at University of Oregon or Cal Poly.

When asked his ambition, he stated "To go as far as I can in baseball".

MANAGERS WATCH---Team managers for Campbell Little League kept their score sheets handy and their coats buttoned at a recent windy-day league try-out at the league's field adjacent to Rosemary School. More try-outs will be held this coming weekend.

Cancer stricken youth coming home Thursday

Roger Garcia is coming home!

The 18 year old Campbell youth who attracted statewide attention when friends began a fund-raising campaign to secure medical treatment in England for him, will arrive at San Francisco Airport on Flight 761 at 6:49 p.m. on Thursday.

Young Garcia, according to neighbor Mrs. Virgil Gundy, is doing well after his treatment and will be kept under strict medical surveillance. He will have to return to England in three to six months for additional treatment.

Friday and Saturday nights, friends of the Campbell High graduate gave a benefit performance which included appearances by Jim Plunkett and Steve Horowitz.

DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

The Spring season of the Northern California Darts Assn. gets underway this evening. The NCDA has 68 teams in the new lineup, an increase of 16 from the Fall-Winter games. The South Bay region has been divided into two leagues of two divisions, each. There are five teams in each division or a total of twenty teams competing in the area.

Campbell will be represented by the same two pubs, The Gaslighter Theater, 400 E. Campbell Ave., and the Black Knight Pizza Parlor, 1781 Winchester Blvd. Both locations have picked up new members for the NCDA and are fielding a total of five teams, three at the Gaslighter and two at the Knight.

While the Gaslighter Theater had two teams last season, only one of this season's teams, Gaslighter II, played last time. Gaslighter III is composed of dart players from the 8281 and 8283 divisions of Lockheed and Gaslighter IV is from the melodrama cast.

The South Bay League Champions, Gaslighter I, has moved to Scarlett La Rue's, 15940 San Jose Ave., Los Gatos.

Also new in Los Gatos will be a team from Tony Enzalone's Black Watch, 141½ Santa Cruz Ave. The old standby pub in Los Gatos, The Lancashire Lad will field four teams this season, one of which is an all girls team.

The Banbury Clock in San Jose still has two teams with the other remnant of the Fall-Winter South Bay League, the Scuttlebutt in Mountain View fielding its same team. New to the game this season will be Andy Capp's 157 W. El Camino Real, Sunnyvale, and the Dutch Goose in Menlo Park.

The other four teams come from the western half of the old Bridge League. The three teams from the Primrose Lanes in Burlingame played from the Swinging Door in San Mateo with the Harold's Club team rounding out the two leagues.

FOUR DIVISIONS

How did Competition Secretary Bob Hughes spread the twenty teams amongst the four divisions?

South Bay League, "A" Division; Scarlett La Rue's, Banbury Clock I, Lancashire Lad I, Primrose Lanes II and the Dutch Goose.

South Bay League, "B" Division; Gaslighter Theater II, Black Knight II, Lancashire Lad III, Harold's Club and Primrose Lanes III.

El Camino League, "A" Division; Black Knight I, Lancashire Lad II, Black Watch, Scuttlebutt and Primrose Lanes I.

El Camino League, "B" Division; Gaslighter Theater III, Gaslighter Theater IV, Lancashire Lad IV, Banbury Clock II and Andy Capps.

The "A" Division Champions will play-off at the end of the season for the All-Assn. Championship and the Falstaff Cup. The "B" Division Champions will play-off for a new perpetual trophy.

Now comes the incentive part of the program. The first and second place teams in the "B" Division will replace the bottom two teams in the "A" Division for the next seasons play.

With five teams in each division, there will be an inter-league match on each divisional level every week. Sounds complicated doesn't it? Well, it's not and it should spread the competition around on a more even basis.

Nursery schools hold open house

Campbell Methodist

The Campbell Methodist Parents Pre-School will hold open house on Wednesday, March 10, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. The school is located at 1675 Winchester Blvd. and leases its facilities from the First United Methodist Church of Campbell.

The school offers a two-day and a three-day morning session. The director is assisted each day by six mothers on a rotating work-day basis.

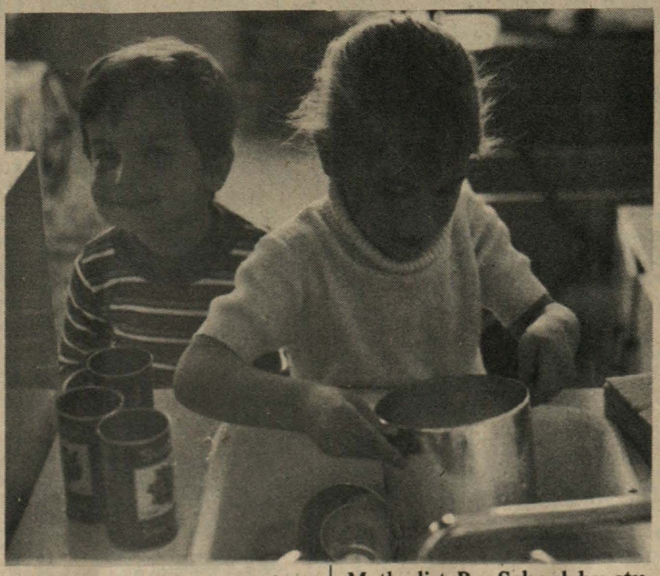
Fathers participate whenever possible and also repair toys and maintain the yard.

The emphasis of the school is on free play and the school is set up in various areas to make this possible.

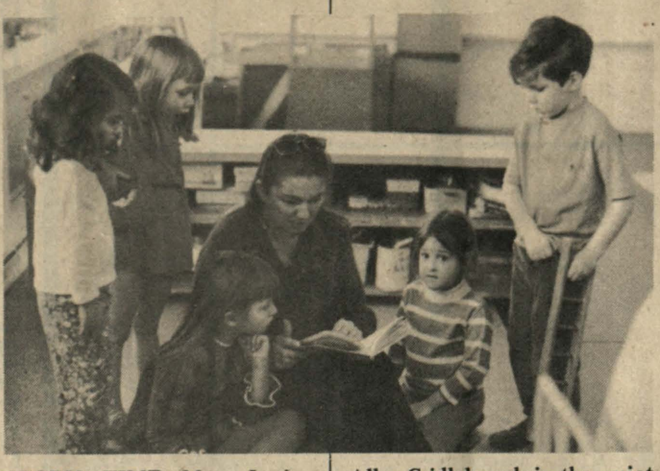
Facilities include an activities room with housekeeping corner, block area, and tables for play dough and art work. The quiet room is for reading, listening, and quiet play. The well-equipped play yard includes a tree house, playhouse, tricycle road and paint corner.

Field trips are offered to such places as the fire department, library, police station, a hospital, a dairy and a train ride.

For further information, call the president, Mrs. Marilyn Smith, 379-7488, or the membership chairman, Mrs. Jane Yamashita, 378-6758.



DISHWASHING? --- A talent which can be used in the future is practiced at Campbell Methodist Pre-School by students Michael Trauner and Kristin Mueller.



STORY TIME---Mrs. Janice ReHorn reads to Catherine Stanton, Karen Smith, Karolyn ReHorn, Lisa Jones and Allen Cridlebaugh in the quiet room at Campbell Methodist Parents Pre-School.

PLAYTIME--Rob Caloiaro, a student at Campbell Parents' Nursery School offers a welcoming smile to visitors to the school.

Cambrian Parents

Cambrian Parents Pre-School, a parent participating nursery school located in the Trinity Presbyterian Church at 3151 Union Ave., San Jose (behind Camden High School) will hold its annual Open House Tuesday, March 9 from 9:30 - 11 a.m. and Wednesday, March 10, from 9:30 - 11 a.m. and 1 to 2 p.m.

Registration for fall classes, both two-day and three-day a week programs, will be accepted at this time. Babysitting will be available to mothers visiting the school.

Cambrian Parents Pre-School, now in its tenth year of operation, provides a varied pre-school program for children from ages three to five. Under the supervision of a trained director and skilled teachers, the nursery school uses mothers on a rotating work-day basis.

Enthusiastic father participation this year has resulted in the recently completed construction of a colorful storage, climbing tower in the play yard. Parents assume operational responsibilities for the school and enjoy a varied program of informative meetings and social events.

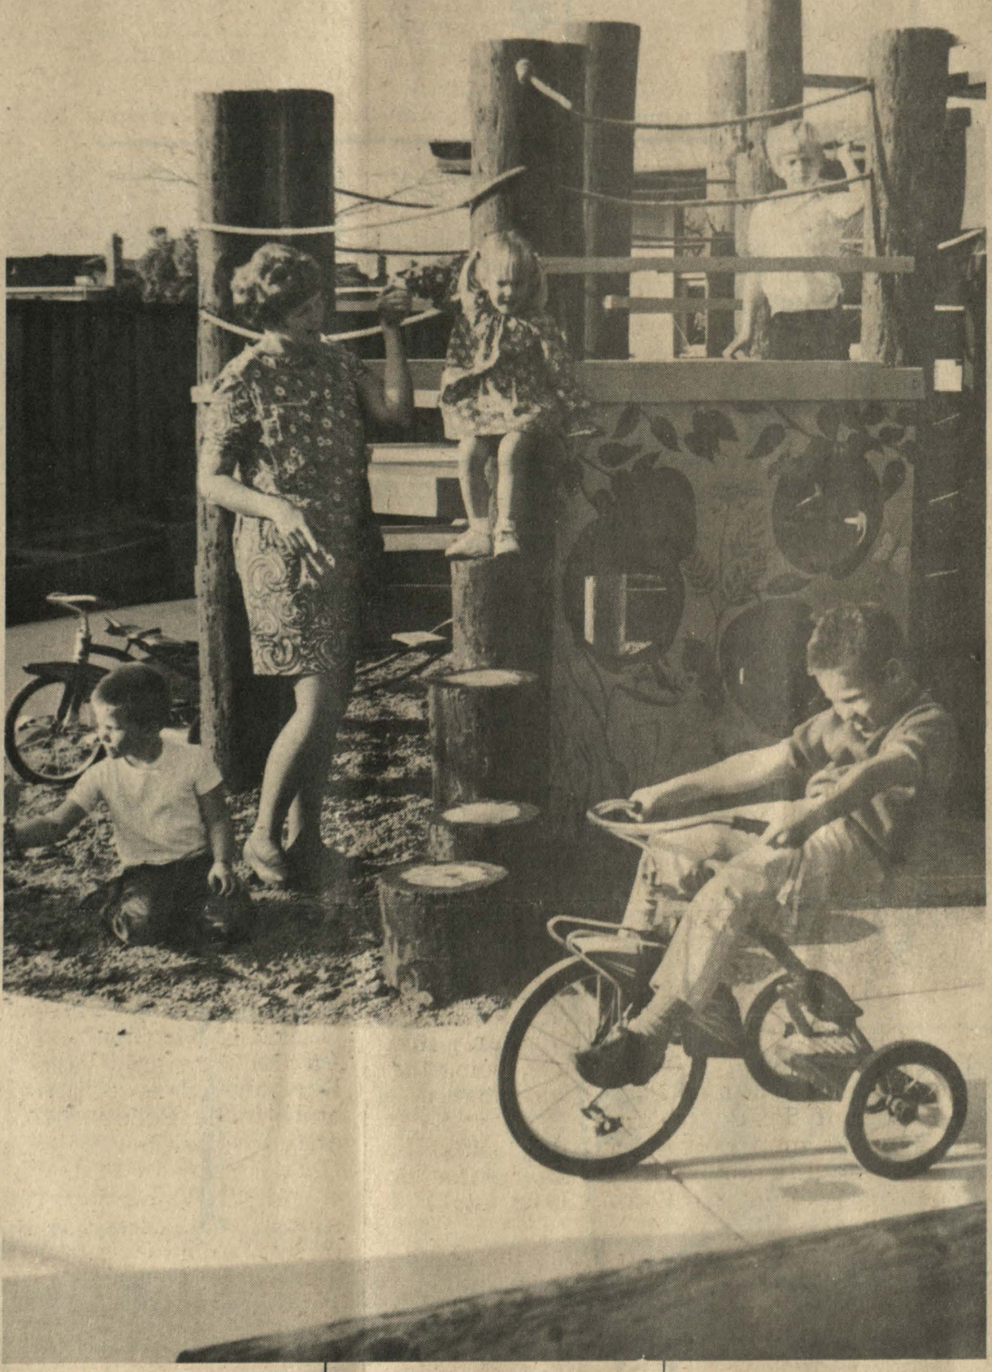
A wide range of experience is open for young members in the way of art, music, body movement, structured group activities, field trips, and free play. A professional in the area of child development and related problems consults with the teachers on a regular monthly basis.

Cambrian Parents Pre-School operates on a non-profit basis and is non-sectarian and non-denominational. Tuition is nominal.

Interested parents are cordially invited to visit the school on the above dates. More information may be obtained from the school's membership chairmen, Mrs. Todd Stewart, at 377-2233, or from Mrs. Tom Snyder at 377-9214.

A REAL POLICEMAN---Congregational Pre-School students thought that a visit and a picture with a real policeman was the greatest. The officer is Don Dore of the Campbell Police Department.

PLAY YARD FUN---Nothing like digging into the sand to make a youngster feel good, find students at Congregational Pre-School.



NEW TOWER---Fathers of children enrolled at Cambrian Parents Pre-School constructed this "tower" for the youngsters to enjoy.

Campbell Parents

A variety of interesting arts and crafts, cooking experiences, creative dramatics and music activities are offered at the school, and occasional field trips, in a basically unstructured environment.

Interested parents are invited to bring their children to the open house on March 11 to explore the varied play areas and exciting backyard. Refreshments will be served.

For further information call the nursery school at 378-3814 or Mrs. Suzanne Nakashima, membership chairman at 295-9169.

Mrs. Jean Low teaches the three-year-olds. Mrs. Tyson and Mrs. Low have been with the school for five years, and Mrs. Alvord founded the school nine years ago.

The school's primary goal is to develop a good self image at an early age. The activities of each class vary according to the age group. All classes take monthly field trips. In addition, four-year-olds have French, rhythmic movement and phonics.

The school has morning and afternoon sessions Monday, Wednesday and Friday for four-year-olds and morning sessions Tuesday and Thursday for three-year-olds.

All Have Plans For Kitchens

When it's time to remodel the kitchen, then it's time to call a family conference.

Naturally, everybody has a real interest in the kitchen, the source of all that good food. But family concern for the kitchen goes beyond this basic.

A well-planned kitchen is a room the whole family can use, so it's wise to get opinions at the outset.

What should the new kitchen include?

Decor Counts

The food preparation area, the food storage area and the clean-up area come first, of course. Good kitchen design brings dishwasher-sink, refrigerator-freezer and oven-surface cooking units together in close harmony.

What's more, modern work-saving appliances pay attention to color and design, in ways that fit any decor. And that leads to another point. The kitchen should be attractive.

Family preferences come into play here. What shall be the color scheme? Shall the walls be paneled, painted, papered? What should be done about floor and ceiling?

Discussion — with some compromises, no doubt — should help the family come up with a general plan. To some extent, decorating will be determined by the other functions of the kitchen.

If space is available, choice may be a kitchen that doubles as a family room. The family room-kitchen is a favorite in many new homes, and it's often possible to create such a setting in an older home.

Appliances Help

A desk-study area, which Mom can use for household planning and the youngsters for homework, is another possibility. Even the smallest kitchen should have room for a bulletin board and message center.

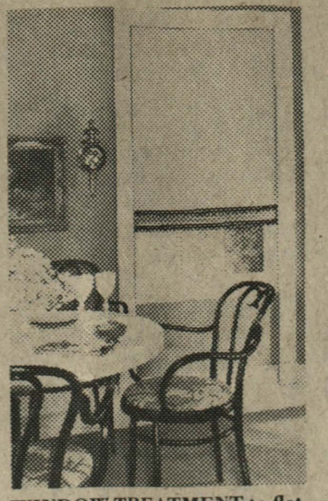
An informal dining area continues to be one of the most popular kitchen additions. In the smaller kitchen, the choice could be a breakfast bar.

Some extra attractions of the kitchen come from modern appliances — for instance, a range with its own hot water tap or a refrigerator-freezer with an exterior dispenser for chilled water or ice cubes.

To create the custom look, there are a variety of wall ovens and cooktop units. And a new dishwasher comes with a decorator front.

At this point, the family conference should probably adjourn in search of information from dealers in appliances and building products.

Such information can be a guide to final decisions, budgeting and the distribution of work — what is to be professionally done and what can be do-it-yourself.



WINDOW TREATMENT to flatter a dining area features translucent window shade, to filter light, protect privacy. It's trimmed with press-on fringe. Sunchex shade by Joanna.

BUILT-IN FOOD preparation center installs in a kitchen cabinet, and comes with a variety of cooking aids and appliances, operated by its own power module. It's Ronson's "Foodmatic."

CLEAN A HOUSE in nothing flat? That's advantage of new built-in central vacuum system. Lightweight hose plugs into wall receptacles in various rooms. Power unit can be located in basement or garage. By General Electric.

Now Sinks Get a Lift

Do home remodeling plans include everything but the kitchen sink? Now something can be done about it, too.

Here are five suggestions from the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau.

1. Replace old sink with a two- or three-bowl type to multiply its simultaneous uses.
2. Check faucets, and replace if necessary. New models are virtually leak-proof.
3. Consider a faucet aerator. It creates multiple bubbles in water, causing soap to suds up faster, easier. It saves water, too.
4. Get a spray attachment. One with a flexible stainless steel hose is now available.
5. Replace old drain plug with a "remote control" stopper installed next to the faucet.

Central Vacuum Is Available – at a Price

Can today's homemaker find happiness with a central vacuum cleaning system — or is the cost out of sight?

An average installation, in a six- or seven-room house, would now cost from 500 to 600 dollars. Not inexpensive, certainly, but still within dream-come-true range.

A built-in central vac can be permanently installed in older — as well as new — homes.

Dr. Ralph Anderson, in race for trustee, cites areas of concern

Citing five areas of concern, Dr. Ralph Anderson, 40, president and manager of Future Systems, Inc. of Los Gatos, who holds a PH.D. degree from the University of California, is seeking election to the Campbell Union (elementary) School District board of trustees on April 20. He is one of five filing for two offices that are open. (Ken Burmeister withdrew his candidacy before the filing deadline last Thursday.)

Anderson, and his wife, Beverly, reside at 13687 Quito Rd., Saratoga and have five children, four of whom are attending Campbell schools.

He submits that his relevant experience in the business field, his recognition of the present problems of the district and an effective plan of action, qualify him to serve as a trustee.

In his statement of candidacy, Anderson emphasized:

1. Foresighted educational objectives. "My major concern is the total education of my children. I have taught at the university level. I am Scout-youth leader and also a Latter Day Saints church leader."

2. Taxpayer recognition of trustee competence: "I believe it is imperative that the taxpayers, teachers and school administrators have confidence in the trustees' ability to understand and cope with the many diverse problems of the district. I have had 12 years experience in corporate financial planning and management."

3. Harmonious and effective board meetings: "I have had extensive experience in directing meetings with many participants of very divergent philosophies."

4. Personnel administration: "I believe it is imperative that the teachers have a voice in school personnel policies as well as the rights of the citizens and taxpayers being represented."

5. District operating policy and procedures: "I am convinced that a thorough standard operating procedure is necessary for effective operation of the district. I have eight years of contract preparation, negotiation and administrative experience."

Anderson adds that, if elected, he will strive within the framework of the excellent educational standards and community participation to have the tax dollars effectively used.

"In addition," Anderson states, "I will require a periodic presentation to the district in a public session, the financial status of the district in terms that the layman can understand and evaluate".

Anderson was graduated from high school in Utah, served as a missionary to Hawaii for the L.D.S. church, received B.Eng.Sc. and M.S. degrees from Brigham Young University and a PH.D. from Cal in Berkeley in 1960.

He has been a resident of the area since 1960.

Parents surprise former principal

Fred (Pete) Peterson, former principal of Forest Hill Elementary School and currently administrative assistant of Campbell Union School District, was the honored guest at a surprise luncheon Monday at Renzo's Restaurant.

Parents turned the tables on Peterson to show their appreciation for his work at Forest Hill School. The former principal was presented with a glass engraver and goggles, and a specially prepared scrapbook of poems and pictures done by Forest Hill students.

Peterson taught for two years at Campbell Elementary School and then was vice-principal. Later he was a master teacher assigned to the district office, and vice-principal at Cypress School. He and his wife, Marlene, have three children, Ricky, Lonnie and Sherry.

ONE-TERM PRESIDENT?

I've been hearing remarks about President Nixon, to the effect that "He's going to be a one-term president" and "Let's make sure he's a one-term President".

Well, now just think about it!

Suppose you had a job of great responsibility. And, suppose further that you knew that you only had one shot at the job. Would you do the best job that you could? I would.

Suppose you were the chairman for a charity drive, as an example, and you only had to do the job one time, and that was it? Wouldn't you put out a lot of extra effort to make it the best job you could? I would.

I think that perhaps the problem with our President Nixon is that he's behaving like a two-term President. If he made up his mind that he is not going to worry about whether or not he gets reelected, he would do the things that he knows deep in his heart that are right for the country. But I suspect that the haunting shadow of possible defeat in the next election colors his thinking and perhaps taints his decision-making ability.

An athletic coach plays his best team at the end of the season, and if he's a good coach, he doesn't worry about being rehired next season. He's only worrying about doing the best kind of coaching job he knows how to do.

I think that we'd have a better Chief Executive if he made up his mind to start behaving like a one-term president and stop worrying about reelection. Perhaps he'd even get reelected.

Schwinn
. . . for the young in heart!

When you buy a new bike at an "ordinary," non-bicycle store you often have to take the carton home and assemble the bike yourself. Frequently, an additional charge is made for the assembly service. When you buy a bike from us there is nothing ordinary about it. First, it is a Schwinn — one of the world's finest bicycles. Second, we are a factory franchised Schwinn dealer — so you can rely on our service and quality. Third — every bike we sell is assembled, adjusted, and ready-to-ride.

SERVICE? WE'LL TAKE CARE OF IT!
From time to time even the finest equipment requires the steady hand of a factory trained serviceman. If you need help, isn't it a comfort to know we're right around the corner. Whether it's a tire change, or a complete bike rebuilding job, we are ready . . . cheerful, fast, and efficient.
